Good morning,

A short while ago, WSFS issued a press release announcing our combination with Beneficial Bank. This is very big and exciting news so I wanted to share a few thoughts with all of you.

Let me start with a little background on Beneficial. Interestingly, they share a history that is very similar to the WSFS story. The bank was founded in 1853 based on Saint John Neumann's vision of providing a safe and secure place for Philadelphia's immigrants to deposit their savings. In fact, it was originally incorporated as the Beneficial Savings Fund Society. 165 years later, Beneficial has grown to be the largest (and oldest) bank headquartered in Philadelphia with just under $6 billion in assets and 72 offices located throughout Southeastern Pennsylvania and nearby South Jersey.

Our combination with Beneficial will create the largest and preeminent locally headquartered community bank for the Delaware Valley. At $13 billion in total assets, WSFS will be the sole bank in this region with all of the products and the balance sheet to compete with the big banks combined with the distinct advantage of local market knowledge and decision-making. And of course all enhanced by our stellar service and commitment to our communities.

This opportunity also aligns nicely with our strategic plan. First, we are growing in markets where we already do some level of business in a very healthy way. Second, it provides us with the scale to transform all of our delivery channels while making significant investments in technology throughout the company. We know that customer expectations on how they interact with us are rapidly evolving and this transformation, when completed, will position us with a significantly enhanced customer experience across all of our businesses. Finally, our combined organization with over 350 years of banking experience, better positions us to continue as an independent company for generations to come. And this is what matters the most for you, our Associates, for our customers, for our owners and for the communities we serve.

I encourage each of you to read our Press Release and Investor Presentation, which both provide more details on our combination.

Today is just the beginning of our journey together. Our executive team has been working with our counterparts at Beneficial over the past several months and we have been pleased with how we share similar cultures, a focus on the customer, and a deep commitment to our communities. We ask you to join us in extending a warm welcome to the Beneficial Associates and remind you that when we work together, as we have done in previous opportunities, great things happen.

As with any large project that we undertake, you have our commitment to provide frequent updates on our progress as we move through the closing and conversion process. This is the first of many touch points and communications.

Thank you for all that you do and for all that you will do as we move forward. This is an unparalleled opportunity... we're making history together.

Thank you and have a great day.

Forward-Looking Statements

This script contains estimates, predictions, opinions, projections and other “forward-looking statements” as that phrase is defined in the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995. Forward-looking statements include, without limitation, statements relating to the impact WSFS expects its proposed acquisition of Beneficial to have on the combined entity’s operations, financial condition, and financial results, and WSFS’ expectations about its ability to successfully integrate the combined businesses and the amount of cost savings and overall operational efficiencies WSFS expects to realize as a result of the proposed acquisition. The forward-looking statements also include predications or expectations of future business or financial performance as well as goals and objectives for future operations, financial and business trends, business prospects, and management’s outlook or expectations for earnings, revenues, expenses, capital levels, liquidity levels, asset quality or other future financial or business performance, strategies or expectations. The words “believe,” “expect,” “anticipate,” “plan,” “estimate,” “target,” “project” and similar expressions, among others, generally identify forward-looking statements. Such forward-looking statements are based on various assumptions (many of which are beyond the control of WSFS and Beneficial) and are subject to risks and uncertainties (which change over time) and other factors which could cause actual results to differ materially from those currently anticipated. Such risks and uncertainties include, but are not limited to, the possibility that the proposed acquisition does not close when expected or at all because required regulatory, stockholder or other approvals and other conditions to closing are not received or satisfied on a timely basis or at all, the failure to close for any other reason, changes in WSFS’ share price before closing, that the businesses of WSFS and Beneficial will not be integrated successfully, that the cost savings and any synergies from the proposed acquisition may not be fully realized or may take longer to realize than expected, disruption from the proposed acquisition making it more difficult to maintain relationships with employees, customers or other parties with whom WSFS or Beneficial have business relationships, diversion of management time on merger-related issues, risks relating to the potential dilutive effect of shares of WSFS common stock to be issued in the transaction, the reaction to the transaction of the companies’ customers, employees and counterparties and other factors, many of which are beyond the control of WSFS and Beneficial. We refer you to the “Risk Factors” and “Management’s Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations” sections of WSFS’ Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2017, the Annual Report on Form 10-K filed by Beneficial for the year ended December 31, 2017 and any updates to those risk factors set forth in WSFS’ and Beneficial’s Quarterly Reports on Form 10-Q, Current Reports on Form 8-K and other filings, which have been filed by WSFS and Beneficial with the SEC and are available on the SEC’s website at www.sec.gov. All forward-looking statements, expressed or implied, included in this script are expressly qualified in their entirety by the cautionary statements contained or referred to herein. The actual results or developments anticipated may not be realized or, even if substantially realized, they may not have the expected consequences to or effects on WSFS, Beneficial or their respective businesses or operations. We caution readers not to place undue reliance on any such forward-looking statements, which speak only as of the date on which they are made. Neither WSFS nor Beneficial undertakes any obligation, and specifically declines any obligation, to revise or update any forward-looking statements, whether as a result of new information, future developments or otherwise.
